AICHE Equilibrium

American Institute of Chemical Engineers

From The Editor

Spring break is here but the work has just begun. The seniors have submitted their projects and you may have a week off but there is still lots left to do. The semester has only just begun and now is the time to look ahead and prepare for the future. We have officer elections the week after spring break. We have the regional conference coming up in April. We have big aspirations for the future and look to improve for the better and only move this club up. With our eyes still looking forward we need as much help as possible to get going in the direction we want to. So I urge you to get involved, run for an officer seat, help a ChemE car team, make Aaron’s life easier, and get all your information to him promptly.

All the little things matter and we are asking for simply that, a little bit from everyone and we can move leaps and bounds. So please be productive not destructive!

Go Pokes!

Wish Them LUCK!
A few weeks back an edition came out explaining the open positions available for election these upcoming weeks.

I want to reassure and urge you all no matter what the classification to get involved. Elections are held at Hideaway so the least you could do is go get free pizza and vote on positions. While you are there you may get elected.

That is what happened to me. I went in blind enjoying my pizza when an opportunity arose. To be the communication between previous Aiche Osu members and its current members I promptly pounced on the opportunity. I have not regretted it since.

There is plenty of different positions up ranging from President to ChemKidz Coordinator. Lots to do. Once again we wish all the students would be more involved as it represent the program as a whole.

Overall I just wanted to express that this is not something that should be looked over, get involved run for a position, you’ll end up loving it.
